

INDEX

- Aberdeen Magazine, The*, music published in, 102.
- Abington, Mrs., songs sung by, in Twelfth Night, 25; played Olivia at Drury Lane, 25 n.
- Act of Uniformity, changes in service at St. Paul's brought about by, 152.
- Adami, Andrea da Bolsena, his description of C. Morales' motet Lamentabatur Jacob, 3; on choice of Miserere by choirmaster of Sistine Choir, 209-10; on author of Vidi turbam magnam, 213; chief authority for traditions of Sistine Chapel, 214.
- A DESCRIPTION OF ALESSANDRO STRIGGIO AND FRANCESCO CORTECCIA'S INTERMEDI 'PSYCHE AND AMOR', 1565, 40-53; intermedi contributed to origin of pantomime, 40, 42; dealt with mythological episodes, 41; relation to opera, 42; list of in U. Angeli's work on subject, ib.; history of musical form of badly needed, 42-3; intermedi composed for marriage of Cosimo de' Medici and of Francesco de' Medici, 43; Striggio's lost intermedio music for L'amico fido, ib.; Striggio and Corteccia's music in the press in 1565, 44; complete reprint of description of, 45-53; Kinkeldey on, 116.
- Adoration of the Cross, Sistine Choir at celebration of, 210.
- Æolian mode, scale of, 94.
- Agreeable Amusement, The*, engraved plates for, 206.
- Albert, Margrave of Ansbach, J. W. Franck a musician in service of, 181.
- Aldrich, Dean, his MS. collection of fancies in Christ Church library, 65; bar-lines inserted by, ib.
- Alkman, praised by Plutarch for invention of new rhythmical forms, 164.
- Alla breve* barring, use of in early Anglican chants, 75, 78.
- Allegri, Gregorio, settings of sung by Sistine Choir, 209, 210.
- Allen, Dr. H. P., his use of syncopation of reciting-note, 80; his conception of new system of Anglican chanting, 86.
- Altos of Sistine Choir, parts taken by, 209.
- Alutnuwara, song sung at, 139.
- Amaryllis*, engraved plates for, 207.
- Anacreontic Concert, Catherine Hayes's appearance at, 61.
- 'Andante, Allegro,' structure of portion of Ferrabosco's second six-part fancy, 68.
- Anerio, Felice, settings of in use by Sistine Choir, 209, 211, 212.
- Angeli, Ubaldo, all important intermedi to 1569 mentioned in his work on the subject, 42.
- ANGELICAN CHANTING, II, 74-86: musical score of chants in common and duple time, 75; musical examples of chant in groups of three notes, 76-7; and of four, five, and six, 78-9; colliding accents in, 79; syncopation of reciting-note, 80; notation of groups, ib.; of syncopation, 81; marks of time-values, ib.; refractory verses, 82; examples of pointing, 83-5; the basses the chief difficulty in, 86; no improvement in chanting of bad translation possible, ib.
- AN OXFORD BOOK OF FANCIES, 65-73: collection of fancies in Christ Church library, 65; names of writers in, ib.; specimens of musical scores from, 66-7, 70-3; description of anonymous pieces in, 68-9; guesses at authorship of, 68; musical score of one of Ferrabosco's fancies, 70-3.
- ANSWERS.—Early Elizabethan Stage Music, 63; Tom Moore's musical compositions, 119; Thomas Moore's compositions, 179; Peter Gillier, 240.
- Antifonas, by Handel, manuscript versions of, 116.
- AN UNKNOWN AUTOGRAPH OF HENRY PURCELL, 5-17: miscellaneous pieces in Gresham College erroneously attributed to handwriting of Purcell by Prof. Taylor, 6; description of the MS. volume, ib.; list of contents of, ib.; consists of songs and duets by H. and D. Purcell, 7; Purcell's object in writing, ib.; a few compositions hitherto unknown, ib.; notes on the contents with musical scores, 7-17.
- Apuleius, intermedi of 1565 drew their inspiration from his tale of Cupid and Psyche, 44.
- Arascione, contribution to his Nuove Laudi ariose della B. V. assigned to C. or M. Ferrabosco, 220.
- Archadelt, Jacob, book of madrigals by, 222.
- Archer, Robert, ticket-medals in possession of, 107, 235.
- Archilochus, invention of non-homogeneous rhythms by, 164.
- Aristides Quintilianus, description of rhythmical modulation by, 163, 164.
- Aristoxenus, rhythmical treatises of, 163.
- Arkwright, G. E. P., Note on The Unre-

- solved 4th on the Dominant in a Close, 60; on William Daman, 118-19; Notes on the Ferrabosco Family, 220-8; Note on Letter from Thomas Linley, 236; Note on Corrections to Grove, 239.
- A RHYTHMICAL PECULIARITY IN CERTAIN MADRIGALS COMPARED WITH THE GREEK THEORY OF METABOLE OF RHYTHM, 158-65: changes in rhythm of madrigals the product of a certain delicacy of perception, 158; their place taken by changes of harmony, ib.; what these changes consist of, ib., 162; not peculiar to one composer or any particular country, 158; musical examples of, 159-60; what the changes of rhythm are due to, 161; influence of Greek learning on madrigal composers, ib., 162; gradual disappearance of phrase-magnitude and rhythm-species, 162; changes of rhythm represent the composer's feelings, ib.; change of rhythm-species familiar to Attic poets, 163; device known as metabole, ib.; importance of metabole in Greek music, ib.; kinds of modulation in, 163-4; Laloy's explanation of Greek rhythms, 164-5.
- Arne, Dr. Thomas A., tune of Scotch song altered by, printed in Exshaw, 21; songs set to music by, 22, 24, 25; music of Sacrifice of Iphigenia by, ib. n.; airs taken from, for O'Keeffe's Castle of Andalusia, 32 n.; musical compositions by, 33, 117.
- Arne, Michael, manager of Crow Street Theatre, 26 n.; music for ballad opera by, 27 n.
- Arne, Mrs., songs sung by, 21 and n.
- Arnold, Dr. Samuel, musical compositions by, 29, 32, 33, 37, 138; overture by, taken for O'Keeffe's Castle of Andalusia, 32 n.; his edition of Messiah contains variant readings of Granville Handel MSS., 60.
- Arrowsmith, Mr., song sung by, 33.
- Arundell, Lord, festivities arranged by for Elizabeth's visit to palace of Nonsuch, 152.
- Astley's Amphitheatre, Dublin, performances in, 39 n.
- Aston, Antony, anecdote from his supplement to Cibber's Lives of Famous Actors and Actresses, 186.
- Austin, J., words of song by, 26.
- Ayliffe, Mrs., songs sung by, 185.
- Baccheios, Senior, on the kinds of modulation in Greek music, 164.
- Bai, Tommaso, settings of used by Sistine Choir, 206.
- Baildon, Joseph, song composed by, 117.
- Baini, Giuseppe, use of motets by Sistine Choir stereotyped by time of, 2; Moroni's description of him, 4.
- Baldinucci, his description of festivities of 1569, 43.
- Baldwin, R., published London Magazine, 117.
- Ballet, bearing on origin of opera, 40; not synonymous with pantomime, 41; developed almost into danced pantomime, ib.; history of remains to be written, ib.
- Bampffield, Mrs., minuet by, 27.
- Bandaraduwa Veddas, songs of, 134-8.
- Bannister, Charles, songs sung by, 30.
- Bardi, Count, experiments of, 40.
- Bar-line, use of in Anglican chanting, 81.
- Barthelémon, Mrs. (formerly Polly Young), song sung by, 24; with her husband performed at the Rotunda, 24 n.
- Bass viol, representation of in early illustrated music-books, 198.
- Basses, of Sistine Choir, parts sung by, 4, 209.
- Bate, H., his comic opera The Rival Candidates played in Dublin, 28 n.; his opera The Flitch of Bacon performed, 30 n.
- Bath, Marquis of, reference to J. Paisible in MSS. of, 117.
- Battishill, Jonathan, musical composition by, 30; his portrait in Wyndham, 30 n.
- Bear Tavern, Dublin, early meetings of Charitable Musical Society held in, 108.
- Beard, John, an actor in Garrick's Company, 20; songs sung by, in Lethe, ib.; and in The Chaplet, 21; at Ranelagh Gardens, 22.
- Beethoven, Ludwig van, his tonal effects akin to Sweelinck's changes of rhythm, 162.
- 'Bell Barr,' question as to meaning of, 11; used by H. Purcell in hitherto unknown song 'I love and I must,' ib.; example of in music score, 12-14.
- Benedict XIII, restored practice of having Passion read in Greek, 210.
- Bennett, Thomas, publisher of The Musical Magazine, 102.
- Bertoni, Ferdinando G., airs taken from, for O'Keeffe's Castle of Andalusia, 32 n.
- Besardus, compositions by A. Ferrabosco in his Thesaurus Harmonicus, 228.
- Bickerstaff, Jacob, published illustrated music-books, 206.
- Bickerstaffe, Isaac, collaborated with Dibdin in mock Italian serenata, 29 n.
- Bickham, George, first engraver of adorned music on an elaborate scale, 196, 200; his Musical Entertainer a model for later publishers and engravers, 200; Walpole's account of, ib.; a Freemason, ib.; some of his designs very French in character, 201; resented rivalry of his imitators, ib., 202; different editions of his Musical Entertainer described, ib.; retired to Richmond, ib.; his last publication, ib.; his name attached to other class of engravings, 203.
- Billington, James, song set to music by, 28; husband of celebrated cantatrice, 28 n.
- Billington, Mrs., song sung by, 34.
- Birt, Dom H. N., his Elizabethan Religious Settlement cited, 152 n., 154, 155.
- Blanckart, Jasper, virginall maker, servant to W. Treasurer, 106 and n.

- Bland, Dorothea (afterwards Mrs. Jordan), songs sung by, 31.
- Blow, Dr. John, copy of Ode on St. Cecilia's Day by, in Gresham College, 5; portrait of in early music-book, 199.
- Bodleian Library, instrumental fantasies of sixteenth and seventeenth centuries in, 65; illustrated music-books in, 206; music MSS. in, 227, 228.
- Boetius, his account of Greek scale used by mediæval theorists, 92.
- Boitard, Louis P., designs by for Cole's Orpheus Britannicus, 204.
- Bologna, Pietro, tight-rope performance by, 37 n.
- Bonner, Bishop, restored ancient manner of worship at St. Paul's, 150.
- Booksellers, second-hand, guilty of damaging old magazines, 99.
- Boton, William, organ-maker to Edward VI, 104.
- Bowen, Jimmy, part taken by in Cibber's Love's Last Shift, 186; anecdote from A. Aston about, ib.
- Boy Bishop, ceremony of, on Feasts of St. Nicholas and Holy Innocents, 151.
- Boyce, William, setting of song by, 20; music to The Chaplet by, 21 n.; music to Shepherd's Lottery by, 22 n.
- Brahms, Johannes, his pianoforte accompaniment to Handel's 'Se tu non lasci more', 59.
- Brancaccio, Julius C., visit to England with Lassus, 151.
- Breitkopf and Härtel, their complete edition of Palestrina's works cited, 209.
- Bremner, Robert, published pieces for flute by Dothel Fils, 179.
- Bressan, Peter, flute-maker, friend and executor of J. Paisible, 179.
- Brett, Mr., songs sung by, 33, 35; his début as a boy at Crow Street Theatre, 33 n.
- Breuil, Mr., of Versailles, cotillon by, 27.
- Bridges, Robert, Anglican Chanting, 74-86.
- British Lady's Magazine*, The, music published in, 102.
- British Melody*, plates of engraved by Cole, 203.
- British Museum, copies of Cathedral Magazine, in, 62; Myriell's collection of music in, 67 n.; late issue of The General Magazine in, 101; licence to W. Treasurer in for purchase of ashes, old boots, &c., for export, 104; copy of 'Cherokee Indians' Death Song' in, 167, 169, 170; copies of pieces by J. C. and P. Gillier in, 180; copy of set of sacred cantatas by Franck in, 182; MSS. of works by Franck in, 186; copy of engraved music-book in, 206; music MSS. in, 227, 228.
- British Orpheus*, version of 'Death Song of Cherokee Indians' in attributed to Paxton, 235.
- Broderip, Robert, musical compositions by, 34.
- Brooke, Charlotte, her Reliques of Irish Poetry cited, 34 n.
- Brooke, Mrs. Frances, her opera Rosina produced in Dublin, 32 n.
- Brown and Stratton, their British Mus. Biog., cited, 117.
- Brumel, Antoine, example of fugal opening by, 143.
- Buckingham Palace, an Ut re mi fa in probably by A. Ferrabosco, 228.
- Buett, H., musician of London, 178.
- Bull, Dr. John, pieces composed by Ferrabosco after manner of, 68.
- Bull's Head Tavern, Dublin, early meetings of Charitable Musical Society held in, 108.
- Burlington, Earl of, engraved music plates dedicated to by Bickham, 200.
- Burney, Dr. Charles, his Account of the Handel Commemoration in Westminster Abbey, 60; mistaken spelling of Boton in, 104 n.; citation of, 150 n.; assigns composition in error to A. Ferrabosco, 222.
- Burns, Robert, air used by, 117.
- Byrd, William, evidence from for practice of writing accompaniment for songs by Elizabethans, 63; treatment of final cadence by, 193; friendly rivalry of A. Ferrabosco with, 228.
- Caccini, Giulio, his Il Rapimento di Cefalo closely related to the intermedi, 42.
- Cadence, examples of in treatment of Dorian mode, 96-8, 147-8; the 'flat' and the plagal, 97-8; use of in plain harmony, 144; examples of in Phrygian mode, 193.
- Calliope*, plates for engraved by Roberts, 205.
- Cambridge Anthropological Expedition to Torres Straits, 122.
- Camden Society, publications of, 118, 150, 239.
- Cantata, on the mystery of the Nativity, performed by Sistine Choir, 213-14.
- Cantus, examples of in treatment of Dorian mode, 95-6.
- Canzonetta, popularity of, 30 n.
- Capel Street Opera House, Dublin, Messiah performed at, 33; operas performed at, 34.
- Cardarelli, Signora, song sung by, 27; played in Italian burletta in Dublin, 28 n.
- Carey, Henry, setting of song by, 20.
- Cargill, Mrs., songs sung by, 32.
- Carolan, T. O., airs taken from for O'Keefe's Castle of Andalusia, 32.
- Carols, inquiry as to, 64.
- Carpenter, J. and T., published compositions by T. Moore, 119.
- Carter, Samson, musical setting by, 24.
- Carter, Tom, song probably reset by, 25 n.; musical compositions by, 28, 29, 32, 33, 38.
- Casali, Giovanni B., two volumes of sacred music by, in Gresham College, 5.
- Cathedral Magazine*, The, date of first publication of, 62.

- Catholic Record Society, publications of, 152 n., 156.
- Catley, Ann, songs sung by, 25, 26, 27, 28; acting in Dublin, 25 n., 27 n.
- Ceccherelli, Alessandro, his prefatory dedication to Descrizione de Gl' Intermedi, 44.
- Celtiberian Society, song sung at, 26.
- 'Ceva, Signor,' setting of 'Dixit Dominus' by, in Gresham College, 5.
- Channing, John, former owner of MS. song by Franck, 186.
- Chapman, T., words of drinking song by, 23.
- Charitable Musical Loan, Dublin Charitable Musical Society merged into, 109.
- Charitable Musical Society of Dublin, ticket-medal struck for annual subscribers to, 107; Messiah first performed for, ib., 108; origin of, 108; merged into Charitable Musical Loan, 109.
- Charles II, did his best to suppress the English fancy, 70.
- Cherry, Andrew, songs sung by, 37; written by, 37 n.
- Child, Dr. William, use of recitation note in early settings by, 75.
- Children of Chapel Royal, plays performed by, 157.
- Children of St. Paul's, ceremony of Boy Bishop performed before Elizabeth by, 151; Christmas festivities carried out by, ib.; play performed by on Elizabeth's visit to palace of Nonsuch, 152; other plays performed by, 153-7.
- Choirmaster, of Sistine Choir, chose music for most of masses sung by, 2, 209-10.
- Christ Church Hall, oratorios performed at, 239.
- Christ Church Library, great number of anonymous fantasies in, 65; also a number by various known composers, ib.; Gibbons's original MS. of fancies possessed by, 66; set of MS. Lamentations in, 120; MS. music by J. Ferrabosco in, 221; ditto by A. Ferrabosco in, 227, 228.
- Christian Magazine, The*, sacred song published in, 101.
- Christ's Hospital, records of, reference to S. Westcott in, 156.
- Chrysander, Dr., Handel's works edited by, 59, 116.
- Cibber, Theophilus, his play Love's Last Shift produced, 185.
- Cithern, representation of in early illustrated music-book, 197.
- Clarke, John, edition of Parthenia published by, 196.
- Clavicytherium, spurious, constructed out of a tabernacle, 62.
- Clio and Euterpe*, plates for engraved by Roberts, 205.
- Clive, Mrs., song sung by in character of Pastora, in The Chaplet, 21.
- Closes, examples of in sixteenth-century music, 147-8; gradually extended use of, 162.
- Cole, Benjamin, music copper-plates engraved by, for New Universal Magazine, 99, 100, 204; imitated Bickham's illustrated music-books in his British Harmony, &c., 202, 203; perhaps born at Leeds, 203; engravings by, ib.; settled in London, ib.; beauty of his engraving, ib.; other work by, ib.; period of his work, ib.
- Cole, Dr. Henry, succeeded Feckenham as Dean of St. Paul's, 151.
- Coleman, Edward, MS. collection of fancies by in Christ Church library, 65; description of, 67.
- Colliding accent, description of, 76, 79.
- Collins, John, songs written and sung by, 37, 38; a frequent visitor to Ireland, 37 n.
- 'Collins, Signor,' setting of 'Dixit Dominus' by, in Gresham College, 5.
- Colman, George, Linley's letter to, about Miss Linley, 236.
- Colonna Library, copy of Handel MS. in, 60, 116.
- Commer, Franz, a former owner of set of sacred cantatas by Franck, 182.
- Common-time barring, the most convenient method of identifying notes of chant, 76.
- 'Con canto andante,' graduale so sung by Sistine Choir, 211.
- Concentores Society, collections of music of, in Gresham College, 5.
- Congress, Library of, work on intermedi in, 44; copy of Striggio and Corteccia's intermedi in, 116.
- Connaught, Duchess of, piano made by R. Woffington in collection of, 218.
- Contralti, of Sistine Choir, parts taken by, 3, 4, 210, 211, 212.
- Convivial Songster, The*, issued by Fielding, 208.
- Cooke, Henry, painter of portrait of T. Mace, 199.
- Cooke, Samuel, song set to music by, 21.
- Cooper, T., published some of Bickham's illustrated music-books, 202, 203.
- Cooper, W. Durrant, his Lists of Foreign Protestants, &c., cited, 118.
- Coote, J., publisher of Royal Magazine and Musical Magazine, 102.
- Coperario (John Cooper), MS. collection of fancies and madrigals by, in Christ Church library, 65, 69; description of, 66-7, 68; changed his name for professional purposes, 67 n.
- Copyright, international, absence of in eighteenth century, 18.
- Corbett, Charles, publisher of some of Bickham's illustrated music-books, 202.
- Cordicelli, Giovanni, 'Confitebor' by, in Gresham College, 5.
- Corelli, Archangelo, portrait of in early music-book, 199.
- Corfe, Joseph, musical compositions by, 38.
- Corry, Mr., song sung by, 33.
- Corteccia, Francesco, description of his 'Psyche and Amor', 40-53.
- Country-dances, list of printed in Exshaw's London Magazine, 20-39.

- Covent Garden Theatre, The Duenna first produced at, 26 n.; Webster's début at, 29 n.; pantomime by Pilon performed at, 31 n.; O'Keefe's Castle of Andalusia produced at, 32 n.; Brett performs at, 33 n.
- Cox Heath, song on encampment at, 29.
- Creizenach, his history of the drama, 42.
- Crivelli, Archangelo, motet by, sung by Sistine Choir on Second Sunday in Lent, 3.
- Croker, Sir Gerard, papers in Public Record Office relating to his estate, 225; connexion of A. Ferrabosco with, ib.
- Crosby, his English Repository cited, 235.
- Cross, Miss, takes the part of Love in Cibber's Love's Last Shift, 185.
- Crouch, Mrs., songs sung by, 36, 37, 117.
- Crow Street Theatre, Dublin, operas and musical performances at, 24 n., 26, 27 n., 28 n., 29 n., 31 n., 37 n., 38 n.
- Cummings, William H., Note on Granville Handel MSS., 59-60, 116-17.
- Cunningham, John, actor-poet, words of songs by, 25, 31; died at Newcastle, 25 n.
- Cunningham, Peter, extract from his Accounts of the Revels at Court, 153; citation of, 154 n., 155.
- Curtis, Anthony, musician of London, 177.
- Dale, J., music printer of London, 169.
- Daly, Mrs., song sung by, 31.
- Daman, Anne, wife of W. Daman, 118; will of W. Daman proved by, ib.
- Daman, William, born in Liège, 118; brought to England by Lord Buckhurst, ib.; death and will of, ib.; documents relating to, ib.; his name among list of Elizabeth's musicians, 118.
- Dambani Veddas, songs of, 134-5, 139.
- Damon, William, question of identity with composer, 237-8.
- Danby, John, musical composition by, 37.
- d'Arezzo, Guido, hexachordal system developed out of suggestions of, 87; his excellent method of teaching singing, ib.; illustration of his method, 88; remarks by on one of his examples, ib.; his hexachordal scale, 89.
- Davey, H., Note on Granville Handel MSS., 60.
- DEATH SONG OF THE CHEROKEE INDIANS, THE, 166-70: musical score of, 166; popularity of tune, ib.; claimed to be a genuine Indian melody, ib.; British history of, 167; date of original publication, ib.; author of words, ib.; tune of, introduced into comedies, operas, &c., 167-8; air brought to England by C. Turner, 168; constantly reprinted, ib.; fresh setting of, 169; another with different words and new music, ib.; prolonged vitality of, 170; its resuscitation in America, ib.; the work of an English composer, 235; date of earliest publication, ib.; Anne Lee's version, ib.; new music for, by Paxton, ib.; later issues of original version, ib.
- de Bolis, Sebastiano, eight motets, psalms, &c., by, in Gresham College, 5; in service of Cardinal York, ib.
- de Cuvillie, John B., organ-builder of Dublin, 215.
- Defesch, William, songs set to music by, 21.
- de John, John, a priest, organ-maker to Henry VIII, 103.
- Delacour, Rev. James, song by, 24.
- de' Medici, Cosimo, intermedi composed for marriage of, 43; ditto for Francesco, ib.
- De Wit, Paul, his Historic Music-museum now owned by Herr Heyer, 62.
- De Worde, Wynkyn, use of large initial letters by in his XX Songs, 196.
- Diapente, defective use of in Phrygian mode, 192.
- di Asuni, Ghillini, setting of music for two flutes by, 23.
- Dibdin, Charles, mock Italian serenata by, in collaboration with Bickerstaffe, 29 n.; wrote music for Pilon's The Touchstone, 31 n.; musical compositions by, 38, 39.
- Dickson, his Catalogue of Musical MSS. in Ely Cathedral cited, 221.
- Dillon, Hon. John B., country dance by, 38; Scotch dance by, 39.
- di Rore, Cipriano, book of madrigals, &c., published by, 222.
- Diverting Post*, The, rare Dublin journal, 216.
- Dorian mode, scale of, 92; examples of treatment of, 95-8; examples of plain and fugal openings in, 142-7; examples of closes in, 147-8.
- Dothel Fila, question of his identification with Dottel Figlio, 179.
- Dothel, Nicholas, pieces for the flute by, 179.
- Dowland, Robert, compositions by A. Ferrabosco in his Variété of Lute Lessons, 228.
- Drum, use of by Veddas, 121; and by Murray Islanders, ib.
- Drury Lane Theatre, songs sung by various artistes in, 21, 25 n.; plays produced at, 22 n., 185.
- Dryden, John, opera by, performed in Dublin, 29 n.
- Du Bellamy, Mr., songs sung by, 28.
- Dublin Journal*, The, concert by J. Woffington advertised in, 216.
- Dublin, musical activity of in eighteenth century, 18-39; sets of Exshaw's London Magazine at, 19; guitars manufactured at, 24 n.
- Dubois, Lady Dorothea, words of songs by, 24; musical pieces by, 24 n.
- Dudley, Lord Robert, letter from on S. Westcott's excommunication, 153; patron of company of actors, ib. n.
- Duffey, Peter, song sung by, 36; a pupil of Giordani, 36 n.; his début, ib.; settled in America, ib.
- Dunlap Society, revival of old songs by, 170.
- 'Duochord,' invented by R. Woffington, 218; example of in Dublin, ib.
- Dupuis, Thomas S., song sung by, 26.

Dutch painters, of seventeenth century, musicians painted by, 195.

Edinburgh Magazine, The, music published in, 102.

Edward VI, W. Treasurer regall maker to, 103-4; list of 'musions and plaiers' in his Establishment Book, 104; Second Prayer Book of, music of service reduced by, 150.

Edwin, Mr., songs sung by, 34.

EIGHTEENTH CENTURY MAGAZINE MUSIC, 18-39: songs sung in pleasure gardens, playhouses, &c., recorded in, 18; an annotated list of music issued during fifty years, ib., 20-39; method of printing, ib.; difficulties in compiling list of, 19; fugitiveness of, ib.; probably eighteenth-century magazines contain music not elsewhere to be found, ib.; and record work of a few minor composers not found in Grove, ib.: Note on, 117.

Eitner, Robert, omissions in his Lexicon, 5; a list of Weideman's works given by, 20 n.; citations of, 22, 23; reference in to Dr. Zelle's researches on Franck, 181; his notice of Franck's visit to London, 182; his account of the Ferrabosco family, 220; his Quellenlexicon in course of revision, 220 n.

Elizabeth, Queen, licensed W. Treasurer to buy ashes and old shoes for export, 104; retained S. Westcott as organist of St. Paul's though condemned to deprivation, 149, 152, 156; plays acted by children of St. Paul's before, 150, 153, 154, 157; old ceremony of Boy Bishop performed before, 151; changes in form of service under, 152; description of her visit to palace of Nonsuch, ib.

Elizabethan musicians, uncertainty of evidence for accompaniment of songs by, 63.

Elizabethan vocal polyphony, MS. fancies at Christ Church compared with, 69.

Elliott, Mrs. Joseph, concert by, at Rotunda, Dublin, 61.

Elmenhorst, Heinrich, settings of his Geistliche Lieder by J. F. Franck, 182, 187.

ENGLISH MAGAZINES CONTAINING MUSIC, BEFORE THE EARLY PART OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY, 99-102: London periodicals frequently devoted a page to music, 99; historical value of, ib.; many songs appeared in print for first time in, ib.; a number of songs specially contributed to, ib.; no regular list of published, ib.; beautiful copper plates in New Universal Magazine, ib.; descriptive list of, 100-2.

English Orpheus, The, engraved plates for, 207.

European Magazine, The, musical contents of, 101.

Evans, Dorothy, Parthenia engraved for, 196.

Exshaw's London Magazine, published in Dublin, 18; at first a reprint of The London Magazine, ib.; some account of, ib., 18; no complete set of in public collections in Ireland, ib.; title, &c., of, 20; list of musical compositions printed in, 20-39; reprinted music already issued in England, 99, 117.

Faithorne, William, engraver of portrait of T. Mace, 199.

Falkner, Miss (afterwards Mrs. Donaldson), songs sung by, 20.

'Falsobordone', settings sung in, by Sistine Choir, 2, 211; Palestrina's settings may be included in term, 2.

Fantasies, instrumental, of the sixteenth and seventeenth centuries, 65.

Farmer, John, example of change of rhythm in madrigal by, 159.

Farnese, Cardinal, placed difficulties in way of A. Ferrabosco on his second visit to England, 223.

Farquhar, George, music for his Beaux' Stratagem composed by J. C. Gillier, 180.

Faulkner's Dublin Journal, advertisement for performance of Handel's Messiah quoted from, 108; notice of dissolution of partnership of Gibson and Woffington in, 218.

Feasts, the Church's great, celebrated by Pope in Sistine chapel or chapel of Quirinal, 1; 'First Vespers' of, ib.; chronological order of, 2-3, 209-14.

Feckenham, John H. de, Dean of St. Paul's, 150; installed as Abbot of Westminster, 151.

Ferrabosco, Alfonso (1), account of in Grove, 223; letters and documents relating to, 223-6; visits to England, 223; in service of Cardinal Farnese, at Rome, ib.; his first dated composition, 226; motets and madrigals by, ib.; unprinted works by, 227-8; his instrumental music, 228; variations on plainsong Miserere made in rivalry with Byrd, ib.

Ferrabosco, Alfonso (2), MS. collection of fancies of in Christ Church library, 65; description of, 67; 'pavan' by, ib.; a less important person than his father, ib. n.; use of hexachord formula by, 68; musical score of one of his fancies, 70-3; pieces wrongly attributed to by Eitner, 221; difficulty of distinguishing between his compositions and his father's, 228.

Ferrabosco, Alfonso (3), an instrumentalist, 220.

Ferrabosco, Constantino, book of canzonets by, 220.

Ferrabosco, Domenico, first recorded musician of family, 221; held musical appointment in Bologna, his native city, ib.; a member of Papal Choir, ib.; dismissed for being a married man, ib.; died in Bologna, ib.; dedication to his book of madrigals, ib.; list of other madrigals by, 222; his sacred music, ib.; MS. works by, 223.

Ferrabosco, Henry, an instrumentalist, 220.

- Ferrabosco, Hieronimo, possible error as to, 221 n.
- Ferrabosco, John, English Church music by at Ely, 221; organist at, ib.; music by for keyboard instrument, at Christ Church, ib.
- Ferrabosco, Matthias, published a book of canzonets, 220.
- Festa, Costanzo, intermedio composed by, for marriage of Cosimo de' Medici, 43.
- Feuillerat, A., his Documents relating to Office of Revels cited, 154 n., 155, 156, 157.
- Fideli, Giulio, mass for five voices by, in Gresham College, 5.
- Fielding, John, illustrated music-books issued by, 208.
- Fife, curved (or wryneck), illustration of in early music-book, 198.
- Figured counterpoint, Magnificat commonly sung in alternate verses of, 147.
- 'First Vespers,' of Church's feasts, order of according to Sistine tradition, 1, 212.
- Fishamble Street Music Hall, Dublin; ticket-medal struck for performance at, 107-9, 235; built for Charitable Musical Society of Dublin, 108; original performance of Handel's Messiah given in, 108, 216.
- Fishamble Street Theatre, performers at, 25 n., 27.
- Fitzwilliam Library, Cambridge, MS. composition by D. Ferrabosco in, 222.
- Flageolet, illustration of, in early music-book, 198.
- Florence, spurious musical instruments manufactured at, 62.
- Florentine Camerata, danger of underestimating efforts of, 40; sought Greek drama and found opera, ib.
- Flute, use of by Murray Islanders, 121.
- Foggia, Francesco, settings of in use by Sistine Choir, 212.
- Folksong, its irregular time-measure, 160; real singer of has no feeling for harmony, 161.
- Franks, Sir A. Wollaston, extract from document in papers of, 239.
- Frederick Lewis Prince of Wales, Cole's British Melody dedicated to, 203.
- Frederick, Miss, songs sung by, 23.
- Fremart, Henri, eight masses by, in Gresham College, 5.
- French, J., publisher of The Cathedral Magazine, 62; and of New Musical and Universal Magazine, 102.
- Fugal openings, of sixteenth-century music, examples of, 142, 144-7, 192-3.
- Fuller, J. Franklin, signature-book of Latouche's Bank in possession of, 218 n.
- Galliard, John E., song set to music by, 21.
- Galvex, Gabrieli, motet by, sung by Sistine Choir on First Sunday in Lent, 3.
- Garcia, Manuel, Catherine Hayes a pupil of, 61.
- Gardane, Antonio, books of madrigals published by, 222.
- Gardiner, Bishop, special preacher at St. Paul's, 151.
- Garrick, David, songs from his Lethe printed in Exshaw, 20; associated with Giardini, 26 n.; operas by performed in Dublin under his own management, 27 n.
- Gaudry, J. S., song composed by, 31.
- Gaudry, Richard, songs sung by, 26 and n., 27; music collected by, 30 n.; actor, vocalist, and composer, 117; published volume of Masonic songs, ib.
- Gaudry, Richard O., son of R. Gaudry, 117; organist of St. Ann's, Dublin, ib.
- Gaywood, R., illustration of early music-book by, 197-8, 199.
- G . . . d . . n, Mr. T., query as to identity of, 240.
- General Magazine, The*, later issue of in British Museum, 101.
- Gentleman's Journal, The*, published by P. A. Motteux, 100, 184; contributors to, ib.; reprint of song by Franck from, 187-90.
- Gentleman's Magazine, The*, first of its kind, 100; contents of, ib.
- George II, harpsichord bequeathed to by Handel, 237.
- George V, loan of musical instruments to Victoria and Albert Museum by, 237.
- German Handel Society, its collections edited by Dr. Chrysander, 59, 116.
- Giannini, G., his essay Origini del dramma musicale, 44 n.; lays too much stress on origin of opera from intermedi, ib.
- Giardini, Felice, song set to music by, 26; associated with Garrick, 26 n.
- Gibbons, Orlando, MS. copies of fancies by, in Christ Church library, 65; his original MS. also there, 66; variations from in Rimbault's edition, ib.
- Gibson and Woffington, manufacturers of guitars in Dublin in eighteenth century, 24 n., 217.
- Gibson, William, music teacher and musical-instrument maker, 217; earliest benefactor of Sir J. Stevenson, ib.; partnership with R. Woffington (2), ib.; citherns made by, ib. and n.; death of, 218.
- Gilbert, his collection of carols cited, 64.
- Gillier, Jean C., compositions by, during his visit to England, 180.
- Gillier, Peter, question of relationship to J. C. Gillier, 180; pieces by, ib.; document relating to his admission as violist in Chapel Royal, 239; A Collection of New Songs attributed to, ib.
- Gilliland, his Dramatic Mirror cited, 31 n., 32 n.
- Giordani, Tommaso, canzonet by, 26; settled in Dublin, 26 n.; airs taken from for O'Keeffe's Castle of Andalusia, 32 n.; musical compositions by, 32, 33, 34; wrote music to new setting of words of 'Cherokee Indians' Death Song', 169.
- Giovanna of Austria, intermedi composed for marriage of, 43.
- Giunti, his fourth edition of Descrizione

- dell' Apparato della Commedia ed Inter-media*, quoted by Kieselwetter, 44.
- Glenville, Mr., songs sung by, 29, 31.
- Glissando*, sign for denoting in primitive music, 124 n.; use of in Malu tunes, 126; absence of in Vedda music, 140.
- Gluck, Signor, musical compositions by, 37.
- Goddard, Rev. Edward, Handel MSS. purchased by, 116; his library sold by auction, ib.
- Gold, Professor, his inquiry concerning second viol part of Pandulpho, 63.
- Goldschmidt, Adelbert von, his essays on early opera, 43.
- Gombert, Nicolas, example of fugal opening by, 145, 146.
- Goovaerts, Alphonse J. M. A., his Typographie musicale, &c., cited, 228.
- Gospel Magazine*, The, first publication of Shrubsole's 'Miles Lane' in, 101; dates of publication, 235; still in existence, ib.
- Grabue, Lewis, 'consort of musick' composed by, 184.
- Granville Handel Manuscripts, description in auctioneer's catalogue at sale of, 59; mentioned by Burney, 60.
- Graswinkel, his Nervi d'Orfeo cited, 227.
- Grattan Flood, Dr. W. H., his History of Irish Music cited, 22 n., 24 n., 27 n., 30 n., 35 n.; Note on Date of Catherine Hayes's debut, 61; Note on Eighteenth-Century Magazine Music, 117; Note on James Paisible, 118; Master Sebastian of St. Paul's, 149-57; Note on Dottel Figlio, 179; Note on 'Death Song of Cherokee Indians,' 235; Note on English Magazine Music, ib.; Note on Eighteenth-Century Magazine Music, ib.
- Gravelot, H., titles of music-books designed by, 201, 202.
- Grazzini, Antonio F., quotation from madrigal by, 42.
- Greek College, students of read the Passion in Greek on Good Friday, 210.
- Greek music, influence of on madrigal writers, 161, 162; importance of metabole in, 163; new rhythmical forms of praised by Plutarch, 164.
- Greek mythology, knowledge of helpful for appreciation of first operas, 41; familiarity with necessary for appreciation of intermedio, ib.
- Greeting, Thomas, early illustrated editions of his Pleasant Companion, 197.
- Gregorian Music, Psalms sung in, by Sistine Choir, 1; use of by Sistine Choir on Ash Wednesday, 3; on Passion Sunday and Palm Sunday, ib., 4; on All Souls day, 213; and on Christmas Eve, 214.
- Gregory XVI, ordered feast of Chair of St. Peter to be held in St. Peter's, 2; also feast of Purification, ib.
- Gresham College, collection of music in, 5; catalogue of, misprints in, ib.; rarities in, ib.; manuscript in autograph of H. Purcell in, 6.
- Gribelin, Simon, line-engraving by for early illustrated music-book, 198.
- Grindal, Bishop, excommunicated S. Westcott, 153; extract from letter by, ib.
- Grove's Dictionary of Music, no mention of Gresham collection in, 5; citations of, 20-4, 26, 30 n., 32 n., 34 n., 37 n., 38 n., 66, 118, 161; error in, 237; corrections for, 239.
- Guitar, all the rage in Dublin, 24, 217; songs set for, 24, 26, 29, 30, 31, 217.
- Gyles, Thomas, Master of Children of St. Paul's, 157.
- H., A. F., Spurious Instruments, 62; St. James's, Garlickhithe, 237.
- Haberl, Franz X., composition assigned to D. Ferrabosco by, 223.
- Haddon, Dr. A. C., leader of Cambridge Anthropological Expedition to Torres Straits, 124.
- Hall, Jacob, the famous rope-dancer, 178.
- Hall, John, portrait of S. Storace by, 199.
- Hallawaie the younger, impressed from Christ's Hospital for choir of St. Paul's, 156.
- Handel Festival, copies of Dr. W. H. Cummings's MSS. made for, 116.
- Handel, George F., airs taken from for O'Keeffe's Castle of Andalusia, 32 n.; his MSS. in Granville Collection, 59; resemblance of choruses and trio in, ib.; sale of, ib., 60; manuscripts of, purchased by Rev. E. Goddard, 116; now in possession of Dr. W. H. Cummings, ib.; description of, ib.; written by during his sojourn in Rome, 117; portrait of in early music-book, 199; original performance of his Messiah given under his superintendence at Dublin, 216; bequeathed harpsichord to George II, 237; epigram on a composition by performed at Oxford, 239.
- HANDELIANA: SOME MEMORIALS OF THE DUBLIN CHARITABLE MUSICAL SOCIETY, 107-9: ticket-medal struck for annual subscribers to Dublin Charitable Musical Society, 107; more than one Society so called, 108; early meeting-places of, ib.; devoted its profits to succour of prisoners in city Marshalseas, ib., 109; origin of, 108; expenditure for year 1742, 109; merged into Charitable Musical Loan, ib.
- Handuna of Sitala Wanniya, songs sung by, 136-7.
- Harleian Society, Parish Registers of Christ Church, Newgate, published by, 106.
- Harmonium, interesting example at Victoria and Albert Museum, 237.
- Harmony, changes in, has taken the place of changes in rhythm, 158, 161; folk-singers have no feeling for, 161.
- Harp, representation of in early illustrated music-book, 198.
- Harpsichord, bequeathed by Handel to

- George II, 237; on loan at Victoria and Albert Museum, ib.
- Harrison, James, printer and publisher of The Pianoforte Magazine, 102.
- Hatton, Mrs., tune of 'Death Song of Cherokee Indians' used in opera by, 167.
- Hawkins, Sir John, mistaken spelling of Boton, in, 104 n.; on the early organists of St. Paul's, 149; on dislike of Puritans for organs, 150 n.; his History of Music cited, 199.
- Haydn, Joseph, visit to London, 167; songs, &c., set to music by, ib.
- Hayes, Catherine, date of her début, 61; at Sapio's concert at the Rotunda, ib.; her contributions, ib.; a pupil of Sapio, ib.; her subsequent appearances, ib.; studied under Garcia, ib.
- Hayes, Dr., musical compositions by, 34, 37.
- Haymarket Theatre, operas performed at, 168.
- Hazard, Henry, apprenticed to R. Strong, musician, 177.
- Hemberewa, song sung at, 138.
- Henry VIII, names of some of his instrument makers, 103.
- Heptinstall, J., music printed by, 186.
- 'Hexachord' formula, two pieces of Ferraboscó based on, 68.
- Hexachordal system, use of by sixteenth-century musicians, 87; developed out of suggestions of Guido d'Arezzo, ib.; d'Arezzo's hexachordal scale, 89; hexachordum naturale, durum and molle, ib.; plan of d'Arezzo's, 90.
- Heyer, Herr, spurious musical instruments offered for sale to, 62.
- Hill, A. F., references given by to publications of Huguenot Society, 106 n.; extracts by from Middlesex County Records relating to musicians, 177.
- Hitchcock, Mrs., songs sung by, 31, 32, 34.
- Hodgson, Philip, musical compositions by, 25, 30.
- Hodson, Henrietta (afterwards Mrs. H. Labouchere), grand-daughter of G. A. Hodson, 64.
- Hodson, William, composer of glees, 64; organist of St. George's, Middlesex, ib.; question of identification, ib.
- Hole, Robert, portraits engraved by, 197.
- Hole, William, engraver of first English pictorial music-book, 196; portraits engraved by, 197.
- Hollar, Wenceslas, etching by, for English Dancing Master, 197.
- Hollier, Mrs. Laetitia, books, pictures, prints, &c., presented to Gresham College by, 5.
- Hollister, Thomas, organist of St. Werburgh's, Dublin, 215; built organ for the church, ib.
- Holy Cross, church of, Mass of the Presanctified celebrated at, on Good Friday, 210.
- Hook, James, music of songs by, in Exshaw, 24, 25, 27, 28, 30, 31, 35, 36, 37, 38; music for The Double Disguise written by, 33 n.; song wrongly attributed to, 117.
- Hopkins and Rimbault's History of the Organ cited, 103.
- Hosier, Thomas, petition of to be released from apprenticeship, 177.
- House of Lords MSS., warrant for J. Paisible and his wife in, 118.
- Howard, Samuel, settings of songs, &c., by, 20.
- Howsley, Marke, musician, fined for 'scandalizing the committee of Militia', 177.
- Hudgebut, J., his Thesaurus Musicus cited, 185.
- 'Hudson, Mr.,' composed songs for Lady's Magazine, 101.
- Hudson, Robert, songs set to music by, 23, 24, 25, 27, 33.
- Hudumenike of Bandaraduwa, songs sung by, 134.
- Hughes, Rev. S. C., his Parish Church of St. Werburgh's cited, 215 n.; also his Church of St. John the Evangelist, 216 n.
- Huguenot Society's Publications, extracts from, 106; documents relating to W. Daman in, 118.
- Hume, David, elegy on, 32.
- Hunter, Anne, author of words of 'Death Song of Cherokee Indians', 167-8, 235; Haydn's hostess, 167; songs of set to music by Haydn, ib.; collected poems of, 168 n.
- Hunter, John, famous surgeon, husband of Anne Hunter, 167.
- Hypoëolian mode, scale of, 94.
- Hypodorian mode, scale of, 93; examples of, 143.
- Hypoionian mode, scale of, 94.
- Hypolydian mode, scale of, 93.
- Hypomixolydian mode, scale of, 94.
- Hypophrygian mode, scale of, 93.
- Il Lasca, his edition of Descrizione de GI' Intermedi, &c., cited, 44 and n.
- 'In canto andante,' term used by Moroni, 2, 210, 211.
- 'In canto fermo,' Moroni's use of term, 210.
- 'In canto figurato,' use of term by Moroni, 210, 211.
- Incedon, Charles B., songs sung by, 38.
- 'In contrapunto,' how sung by Sistine Choir, 210, 213.
- Indian music, change of rhythm in, 140.
- Initials, ornamental, used in early music, 196.
- Instrumental music, use of, in intermedi, 43.
- Intermedi*, bearing on origin of opera, 40; contributed to origin of pantomime, ib.; dealt with mythological episodes, 41; were really pantomimes, 42; closely related to Renaissance pantomimes, ib.; all the important ones mentioned in Angeli's work, ib.; fully developed before opera came into existence, ib.; history of musical form of badly needed, ib.; writers on, 43; of 1565, drew their

- inspiration from Apuleius's 'Cupid and Psyche', 44; reprint of description of Striggio and Cortecchia's 'Psyche and Amor', 45-53; our knowledge of advanced by Dr. O. Kinkeldey, 116.
- International Musical Society, Quarterly Magazine of, 167; publications by, 181.
- Ionian mode, scale of, 94; ascending scale concludes with semitonic interval, 96.
- Islington New Wells, picture of in illustrated music-book, 201.
- Italian burletta, performances of in Dublin, 27 n.
- Italian painters, early school of, were practical musicians, 195.
- Italy, King of, Quirinal now the palace of, 1.
- Jackson, Irish gentleman piper, 30 n.
- Jackson, William, of Exeter, elegy by, 30; vignette on title-page of his Elegies by Roberts, 205.
- James II, French refugees made Free Denizens under, 118.
- Jameson, Miss, song sung by, 25; played in Italian burletta in Dublin, 28 n., 29.
- Jarratt, Miss, songs sung by, 32, 37.
- Jefferies, George, work attributed to, on insufficient grounds, 120.
- Jenkins, John, fancies by, in Gresham College, 5; MS. collection of fancies by, in Christ Church library, 65; specially distinguished for his fancies, 67.
- Jew's Harp, used by Murray Islanders, 121.
- Jobin, lute arrangement in his Das erste Buch Neuerlesener, 222.
- Jöcher's Gelehrten-Lexicon, mistakenly calls Franck a doctor, 181.
- John Frederick, Margrave of Ansbach, J. W. Franck Director of Court Music and Comedies to, 181.
- Johnson, Jack, songs sung by, 31, 32, 34; afterwards a famous Irish comedian, 31 n.
- Johnson, Mrs. Jack (née Poitier), songs sung by, 30.
- Johnson, Mrs., published pieces by Dothel Fils, 179.
- Joly Collection, song as altered by T. A. Arne in, 21 n.; exemplars of 'Cherokee Indians' Death Song' in, 36 n.; copies of other songs in, 168, 169, 170.
- Jones, R., piano made by, for George IV, 237.
- Jonson, Ben, words of song by set to music by Ferrabosco, 67 n.
- J. S. S., Mr., musical setting by, 23.
- J. W. FRANCK IN ENGLAND, 181-90: the chief source of information for his career, 181; operas by performed in Hamburg, ib.; first mentions of, ib.; accounts of by later writers, ib.; date of birth, ib.; went to Spain, ib., 186; 'Cammer Registratur Adjunct' and musician in service of Albert of Ansbach, 181; Director of Court Music and Comedies under John Frederick of Ansbach, ib.; moves to Hamburg, ib.; list of his known compositions in Dr. Zelle's paper, 182; operas by, ib.; composed a considerable amount of sacred music, ib.; his latest German work, ib.; a prominent figure in London musical society, 1690-5, ib.; associated with R. King in arranging concerts, 183; advertisements of concerts by, ib., 184; mention of in connexion with concerts ceases, ib.; songs by, published in Gentleman's Journal, ib., 185; song set to music by, for T. Cibber's Love's Last Shift, 185; pass granted to for a journey to Holland, 186; contents of his Remedium Melancholice, ib.; had no difficulty in imitating style in vogue in London, 187; Motteux's estimate of him, ib.; musical score of his 'Still must I grieve for an ungrateful swain,' 187-90.
- K., F., Date of Cathedral Magazine, 62.
- Kaira of Sitala Wanniya, song sung by, 138.
- Keber music, of Murray Islanders, 123; belonged to ceremonies of special cult, 128; language of, ib., 130; irregularity of rhythm in, 129; characteristic of, ib.; origin of, 130-1; scales of, 132.
- Keel, Frederick, extract from article by on British Folk-song, 160-1.
- Kelly, Michael, his first appearance on the stage, 28 n.; songs sung by, 36, 37; his Reminiscences cited, 36 n.
- Kemble, John, words of song by, 33; played at Smock Alley Theatre, 33 n.
- Kennedy, Mrs. (formerly Mrs. Farrell), first appearance at Rotunda, 30; songs sung by, 30, 31, 33, 35.
- Kerslake, Thomas, Handel MS. burnt in his house, 60.
- Kidson, Frank, English Magazines containing Music before the Early Part of the Nineteenth Century, 99-102; his British Music Publishers cited, 99, 108; his notes on the 'Cherokee Indians' Death Song', 169, 170 n.; on identification of Dattel Figlio, 179; Some Illustrated Music-Books of the Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries, 195-208.
- Kiesewetter, Ambros, on cursory treatment of intermedi by Corteccia, Festa, &c., 43, 44; quotation from, 43; works quoted by, 44.
- Kilburn, Mr., song set to music by, 20.
- King, Robert, one of the King's musicians, 182; licence to set up 'a concert of music', ib.; composer of many songs, 183; associated with Franck in arranging concerts, ib.; advertisements of, ib.
- KING'S MUSICIANS, LISTS OF THE, FROM THE AUDIT OFFICE DECLARED ACCOUNTS, 54-8, 110-15, 171-6, 229-34.
- Kinkeldey, Dr. Otto, first American to hold a Professorship in a German University, 116; his work on the intermedi, ib.
- Kirikoraha ceremony of Veddas of Ceylon, 134, 138, 139.
- Kirshaw, G., songs set to music by, 23.
- Kitchin, Thomas, engraver of illustrated music-books, 207; his work republished by J. Newbery, ib.

- Kitharocedists, use of chromatic genus by, 164.
- Kolamaduwa ceremony of Veddas of Ceylon, 136.
- Kovil Vanamai Veddas, songs of, 134.
- Kromolicki, J. and Krabbe, W., publication of Franck's sacred music by, 182.
- Kuma of Bulugahaladana, song sung by, 137.
- Kuma of Dambani, songs sung by, 134, 135.
- Kyle, John, words and music of songs by, 35, 39.
- L., W. J., on William Hodson, 64.
- La Belle Assemblée*, music sheets published with each number, 102.
- La Belle Espagniola*, tight-rope performance by, 37 n.
- Lady's Magazine, The*, two publications with same title, 101; music contents of, ib.; another published by G. Robinson and by J. Wheble, ib.
- Lady's Monthly Museum, The*, musical contents of, 101.
- Laloy, M., his name for equal bar values, 162; on rhythms of Greek music, 164.
- Lambardi, book of madrigals by, 222.
- Lampe, J. F., musical setting by, 24; an edition of his Dragon of Wantley engraved by Cole, 203.
- Lassus, Orlando, examples of fugal openings by, 143, 144-7; used Latin metres for his settings, 161; motet by sung at St. Paul's, 151; visit to England, ib.
- Latin chants, melody of, 74.
- Lawes, Henry, portrait of in his Ayres and Dialogues, 198.
- Lawrence, W. J., Eighteenth-Century Magazine Music, 18-39, 117, 168, 170 n.; date given by for début of Catherine Hayes, 61; his bibliography of musical portion of Exshaw's Magazine referred to, 99; Some Memorials of the Dublin Charitable Musical Society, 107-9; Note on Tom Moore's Musical Compositions, 119; The Woffingtons of Dublin, 215-19; Note on a Dublin ticket-medal, 235.
- Layolle, Francisus de, example of fugal opening by, 145.
- Lechner, Leonhard, his Harmonice Miscellæ cited, 226.
- Lee, Anne, music publisher of Dublin, 168.
- Lee, Edmond, music publisher of Dublin, 169.
- Lee, John, music publisher of Dublin, 170.
- Lee, S., songs published by, 21.
- Leeves, Rev. William, tune claimed by, 117.
- Leichtentritt, his revised edition of Ambros cited, 43.
- Leigh, Lady Caroline, minuet by, 27.
- Le Jeune, Claude, example of change of rhythm in madrigal by, 159; influence of Greek music on, 161, 162.
- Leoni, Jew tenor singer, song sung by in Dublin, 28; his début as a boy at Drury Lane, 28 n.; co-manager of Capel Street Opera House, Dublin, ib.; death of, ib.
- Leonora of Toledo, intermedi composed for marriage of, 43.
- Lewer, J., musical-instrument maker and music printer, 208; re-issued Tyther's Amaryllis, ib.
- Lewes, William, instrument-maker to Henry VIII, 103.
- Lindner, Friedrich, composition in his Gemma Musicalis wrongly attributed to A. Ferrabosco, 222; his Sacra Cantiones cited, 226.
- Linley, Thomas, wrote music to Robinson Crusoe, 31 n.; song composed by, 117; letter to Coleman on his daughter's engagement in London, 236.
- Liszt, Franz, concert in Dublin by, 61.
- Literary Magazine, The*, music contents of, 101.
- Locke, Matthew, fancies by, in Gresham College, 5.
- Loggan, David, portrait of J. Playford by, 199.
- London Magazine, The*, printed no music until pirated in Ireland, 18; musical contents of, 100; musical pieces in, same as those in Exshaw, 117.
- Longman and Broderip, music printers and publishers of London, 169-70, 199, 206, 235.
- Longman, Lukey, & Co., publishers of engraved music-books, 208.
- Lorenzo, St., church of, Pope and Cardinals assembled at on Good Friday, 210.
- Lorraine, Claude, designs of imitated in illustrated music-books, 201.
- Louden, Earl of, Grand Master of Freemasons, 200; engraved music plates dedicated to by Bickham, ib.
- Lowe, Edward, letter from, in Magrath's Flemings in Oxford, 240; organist of Christ Church, and Professor of Music in Oxford University, ib.; MS. lesson-book of, ib.
- Lowe, Thomas, tenor singer, songs sung by, 20, 21, 22, 29.
- Lully, Jean B., opera before his time, 43.
- Lüneburg, copy of set of sacred cantatas by Franck at, 182.
- Lupo, Thomas, MS. collection of fancies by in Christ Church library, 65; MS. copies of madrigals by, ib., 69; description of, 67; amateurishness of, 68.
- Lute, representations of in early illustrated music-books, 197, 198; had become obsolete for dancing in 1686, ib.
- Lydian mode, scale of, 93; ascending scale concludes with semitonic interval, 96.
- Lyly, John, plays by, performed by Children of St. Paul's and of Chapel Royal, 157.
- Lyric monody, revival of, 40.
- Lyttleton, Lord, words of song by, 72.
- Mace, Thomas, portrait of, 199.
- MacNally, Leonard, his Robin Hood produced at Covent Garden, 33.
- 'Madonna del Carmine,' antifonas composed by Handel for, 116.
- Madrigals, MS. collection of in Christ

- Church library, 65; description of, 69; edited by Mr. B. Squire, 158; changes in rhythm of, ib., 161, 162.
- Magdalene College Library, documents from the Pepys MSS. in relating to A. Ferrabosco, 223-4.
- Magnificat*, fugal openings of, 147.
- Malu, legendary personage of Murray Island, 124; ceremonies connected with cult of, ib.; place of origin of, 124, 130.
- Malu music, of Murray Islanders, 123; tunes of, are extremely ancient and extremely sacred, ib.; difficulty of obtaining records of, 124; musical illustration of, ib.; funeral songs of, 125; dances to, 126; table of sizes of intervals in, 127; a certain regularity of rhythm in, 129; characteristic of—a descending series of notes, ib.; origin of, 130.
- Malvezzi, Cristofano, knowledge of musical form of intermedi based on his examples, 42.
- Marenzio, Luca, MS. copies of madrigals by in Christ Church library, 65; are beautiful inspirations, 69; his Magnificat for eight voices, 211.
- Martini, air taken from, 36 n.
- Martyr, Mrs., songs sung by, 33, 37.
- Mary, Queen, Coronation festivities of, 150; visit of to Princess Elizabeth, 151.
- Marylebone Gardens, musical pieces performed at, 24.
- Mason, William, editor of Gospel Magazine, 235.
- MASTER SEBASTIAN OF PAUL'S, 149-57: no memoir of has yet appeared, 149; organist of St. Paul's and Master of the Children, ib.; condemned to deprivation and imprisonment, but permitted to retain his post by Elizabeth, ib., 152, 155; nothing known of his early history, 149; first known reference to, 150; in charge of boys as company of actors, ib.; took part in Coronation festivities of Mary, ib.; refused to subscribe to Act of Uniformity, 152; produced plays for Children of St. Paul's, 152-3; music for plays written by, 153; excommunication of, ib.; payment to for production of plays, 154, 155; place of residence, 155; imprisoned for three months, 156; entries in Revels Account for charges by, ib.; exact date of his disappearance from St. Paul's not ascertainable, 157; probable date of death of, ib.; no trace of any of his compositions, ib.
- Mattheson, Johann, his allusion to J. W. Franck, 181.
- May, Dean, of St. Paul's, organ silenced under, 150.
- Mee, Rev. Dr. J., his Oldest Music Room in Europe cited, 117, 239.
- Meibomius, on corruptions in manuscripts of Aristides, 163; his edition of Aristides quoted, 164.
- Melmoth, Mrs., songs sung by, 32.
- Melody, relation of speech-accent to, 74; early singers acquired music by listening to, 87; rules of, 92; of Hypodorian mode, 144.
- Mendelssohn, his account of Vittoria's, setting of the 'Turba' music in use by Sistine Choir, 4.
- Mendez, Moses, ballad opera by, 21 n.
- Mercator, Mighel, organ-maker to Henry VIII, 103.
- Metastasio, Pietro A. D. B., translation of song from, 26.
- Mezzo-soprani, parts taken by in Sistine Choir, 209.
- Mico, R., MS. collection of fancies by in Christ Church library, 65; MS. copy of madrigal by, ib., 69; amateurishness of, 68.
- Middle Temple, Hall of, plays performed in, 153.
- Miscellaneous Correspondence*, &c., edited by B. Martin, 101; musical contents of, ib.
- Mitchell, Rev. Coote, Chaplain to Corporation of Dublin, 235; grandson of Sir M. Mitchell, ib.
- Mitchell, Sir Michael, a Lord Mayor of Dublin, 235.
- Mixolydian mode, scale of, 93.
- Modal system, use of by sixteenth-century musicians, 87; derived from old ecclesiastical sources, ib.; scales of, in theory seven, 91; scales of contain two modes of melody, 92; differences between scales of, 191.
- Modes, the authentic and the plagal, 92; how transposed, ib.; musical examples of, 92-4; treatment of the Dorian, 95-8; mode of a composition always deduced from last note of lowest part, 95; examples of cantus in Dorian, 95-6; may be identified by the opening phrases of a composition, 142; the Hypodorian, 143; description of the Phrygian, 191-4.
- Modulation, kinds of, in Greek music, 163-4; use of in sixteenth-century music, 142, 144, 193.
- Moller, Joannes, details of J. W. Franck given by, 181.
- Monochord, early singers acquired music by listening to notes sounded on, 87.
- Monody, employment of in intermedi, 42.
- Monteverde, Claudio, MS. copies of madrigals by in Christ Church library, 65; are very interesting, 69.
- Monthly Mirror*, The, cited for curious details about Mrs. Cargill, 32 n.
- Moore, Tom, air used by, 117; list of compositions by, 119, 179.
- Morales, Cristoforo, motet by, sung by Sistine Choir on Third Sunday in Lent, 3.
- Morley, Thomas, his description of 'practical music', 87; his first part of music corresponded to the hexachordal system of three scales, 91; system upon which his second part of music is based, ib.; his name for the final cadence of the Phrygian mode, 97; example of fugal opening by, 145; madrigals by A. Ferrabosco in his collection, 227.

- Mornington, Lord, his chants much beautified by varied rhythms, 86.
- Moroni, his description of Bains, 4; his account of the Church's feasts in the Sistine Chapel, ib., 209-14; term 'in canto andante' used by, 210.
- Moroni, Cardinal, Sander's report to, on position of S. Westcott at St. Paul's, 152.
- Moss, Mr., songs sung by, 27, 31.
- Motets, sung by Sistine Choir at Church's great feasts, 1-3, 209-14; MS. copy of unknown example by Handel, 116; Palestrina's, 142; fugal openings of, 144, 146; list of D. Ferrabosco's, 222.
- Motteux, Peter A., edited Gentleman's Journal, 100, 184, 185; words of songs by, 183, 187; settled in London after revocation of Edict of Nantes, 184; his estimate of Franck, 187.
- 'Mr. Smith's Musick-Room,' later called the 'Vendu' or 'Vendue', 183; performance of concert by Grabue in, 184.
- Muller, Ale., travelling harmonium made by, 237.
- Mulliner, Thomas, his connexion with St. Paul's as organist doubtful, 149.
- Murphy, Dr., musical compositions by, 27, 30; organist of St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin, 27 n.; as a boy sang in original performance of the Messiah, ib.
- Murray Islanders, primitive music of, 121-33; call themselves the Miriam, 121; of Australian and Papuan stock, ib.; small part played by musical instruments in development of their music, ib.; drum the only instrument used by to accompany vocal music, ib.; three styles distinguished—Malu music, keber music, 'secular' music, 123; do not attach importance to words of song, 128; are ignorant of meaning of words of their 'secular' songs, 130; was their music an importation? 130.
- Music, can express nothing definite, 162; expresses each composer's own individuality, 163; amount spent on by country gentleman in seventeenth century, 240.
- Music-books, of early nineteenth century, 100-102; engraved wood-blocks for, ib.; engraved copper-plates for, 101.
- Music, Poetry and Painting*, plates engraved for, 208.
- Musical Antiquarian Society, Gibbons's fancies edited by Rimbault for, 66.
- Musical Entertainer, The*, plates for engraved by G. Bickham, 200, 202.
- Musical Glasses, performance by Miss Woffington on, 218.
- Musical Libraries, investigation of contents of, 5; article on in Grove incomplete, ib.
- Musical Magazine, The, or Complete Pocket Companion*, music published in, 102.
- Musical Magazine, The, by Mr. Oswald and other celebrated Masters*, music published in, 102.
- Musicians, payments to, extract from State Papers relating to, 238.
- Myers, Charles S., The Study of Primitive Music, 121-41; articles by on primitive music cited, 121 n., 122 n., 140 n.
- Myriell, his collection of music in British Museum, 67 n.
- Nae Yaku, invocation sung to, 134, 135, 137, 139.
- Nanino, G. M., example of change of rhythm in madrigal by, 159; setting of sung by Sistine Choir, 214.
- National Library, Dublin, deficiencies in sets of Exshaw's London Magazine in, 19; Joly Collection in, 36; copy of rare Dublin journal in, 216 n.; notice of R. Woffington in copy of Public Register in, 217 n.
- National Museum, Dublin, cithern in, 217; chamber orchestion in, 219.
- Neal, John, music publisher, President of Charitable Musical Society of Dublin, 108.
- New Assembly Rooms, Hanover Square, entertainments in, 26, 27.
- New Musical and Universal Magazine, The*, publishers of, 102; some musical contents of, ib.
- New Universal Magazine, The*, description of, 100; its plates a temptation to the print-seller, ib.; music-page of engraved by Roberts, 204.
- New Wells, Clerkenwell, Arne's Sacrifice of Iphigenia performed at, 22.
- Newbery, J., reprinted Kitchin's English Orpheus as Universal Harmony, 207.
- Norris, Miss, songs sung by, 21.
- NOTES.—The Granville 'Handel Manuscripts', 59, 60; The unresolved 4th on the Dominant in a Close, 60; Date of Catherine Hayes's début, 61; The Cathedral Magazine, 62; Sale of Spurious Instruments, 62; A Description of Striggio and Corteccia's Intermedi Psyche and Amor, 116; Handel Manuscripts, ib.; Eighteenth-Century Magazine Music, 117; James Paisible, ib.; Ditto, 118; William Daman, ib.; Extracts from the Middlesex County Records relating to Musicians, 177; Ballad Operas, 179; Dattel Figlio, ib.; Peter Bressan, ib.; Dublin Ticket-medal, 235; 'Death Song of the Cherokee Indians,' ib.; English Magazine Music, ib.; Eighteenth-Century Magazine Music, ib.; Letter from Thomas Linley to Colman, 236; Keyboard Instruments at the Victoria and Albert Museum, 237; Musicians named in the Registers of St. James's, Garlick-hithe, ib.; Payments to Musicians in 1632, 238; Corrections to Grove's Dictionary, new edition, 239; Handel and the Oxford Music Room, ib.; Royal Academy of Music, 1719, ib.; Edward Lowe, 240.
- NOTES ON THE FERRABOSCO FAMILY, 220-8: difficulty of distinguishing between different composers of name, 220; attempts to classify works of, ib.; Eitner's account of, ib.; the three most - important members of family, 221; dedication to D. Ferrabosco's book of madrigals, ib.; list of D. Ferrabosco's compositions, 222; unpublished letters and documents relating to A. Ferrabosco (1), 223-6; list of A. Ferrabosco's madrigals, &c., 226-7; unpublished compositions of A. Ferrabosco, 228.

- O'Donoghue, D. J., his Poets of Ireland cited, 24 n.
- Ogle, Right Hon. George, songs composed by, 117.
- O'Keeffe, John, his account of Passerini's nephews, 24; credits T. Carter with re-setting of 'Cease, cease, gay seducers', 25 n.; his Recollections cited, 29 n., 33 n.; operas and pantomimes produced by, 32 n., 33 n., 34, 37 n.
- Olive, Joseph, organist of St. Botolph, 208.
- Onslow, Right Hon. G., words of song by, 35; grandfather of George, the composer, 35 n.; wrong identification of, 117.
- Opera, origin of an open problem for many years, 40; various musical entertainments bearing on origin of, ib.; never really existed till Florentine Camerata stumbled on it, ib.; relation to intermedi, 41; problem of origin will not be solved till history of intermedi is more advanced, 42; Giannini on origin of, 44 n.
- Operas, performed in Dublin, 20-2, 25-35, 37-8; in Hamburg, 181, 182.
- Orchestrion, chamber, example of in National Museum, Dublin, 219.
- O'Reilly, Mr., songs sung by, 33, 34.
- Organ-builders, of sixteenth century, 103.
- Ormiston, Rev. James, present editor of Gospel Magazine, 235.
- Orpheus Britannicus*, plates of engraved by Cole, 204.
- Oswald, James, song set to music by, 22; pieces signed 'Dottel Figlio' claimed by, 179.
- Oulton, Whalley, first performance of his Haunted Castle, 34 n.
- Outrappers Office (in Royal Exchange), concert by Franck performed in, 183.
- Owenson, Robert (real name MacOwen), songs sung by, 27, 28, 38; played in first appearance of School for Scandal in Ireland, 28 n.
- Oxford History of Music*, citation of, 90 n., 92, 142.
- Oxford Music Room, Handel's connexion with, 239.
- Oxford, musical libraries in, 65.
- P., M. L., inquires about J. C. and P. Gillier, 180.
- Paisible, James, reference to among MSS. of Marquis of Bath, 117; name occurs in list of French Refugees made Free Denizens under James II, 118; warrants for among House of Lords MSS., ib.
- Paisible, Mary, wife of J. Paisible, 118.
- Paisiello, Giovanni, burletta by played in Dublin, 28 n.
- Palestrina, Giovanni P. da, his settings held to be included in term 'Falsobordone', 2; settings by, sung at Church's great feasts by Sistine Choir, 2-4, 209-14; musical example of plagal cadence from, 98; his treatment of modes, 142; example of fugal openings by, ib., 145, 146, 192-3; example of plagal cadence by, 194.
- Pallavicino, Benedetto, MS. copies of madrigals by, in Christ Church library, 65; his pieces uninteresting, 69.
- Palmer, Miss, songs sung by, 29.
- Palmer, Mr., song sung by, 33.
- Panpipe, used by Murray Islanders, 121.
- Pantomime, origin of contributed to by intermedio, 40, 42; not synonymous with ballet, 41; may be likened to living pictures, ib.; history of remains to be written, ib.
- Papal Choir, inseparably associated with Sistine Chapel, 1; music performed by, 1-4, 209-14.
- Parker, Mrs., dances by, 39; her portrait in Walker's Hibernian Magazine, 39 n.
- Parry, Sir Hubert, his Music of the Seventeenth Century cited, 66.
- Passerini, Mr., jun., song sung by, 24; probably a nephew of Signor Passerini, 24 n.
- Passerini, Signor, performed oratorios and serenatas at Crow Street Theatre, Dublin, 24 n.; his nephews Tenino and Ceccino, ib.; played in Italian burletta in Dublin, 28.
- Paulina (Sala), at the Quirinal, concerts by Sistine Choir in, 214.
- Pause-chord, use of in sixteenth and seventeenth-century fancies, 69.
- Pavan, examples of, by A. Ferrabosco (2), 67.
- Paxton, Stephen, new setting of 'Cherokee Indians' Death Song' by, 169, 235.
- Pearce, his Hartford Bridge performed in Dublin, 39 n.
- Penal Laws, restrictions of the old, 215.
- Pepusch, Dr. John C., volume of music in autograph of, in Gresham College, 5.
- Peretti, Signor, played in Italian burletta in Dublin, 28 n.
- Peri, Jacopo, his Euridice and Dafne not closely related to the intermedi, 42.
- Peterborough, the Earl of, subscribes to Royal Academy of Music, 239.
- Pevernage, Andreas, his Harmonia Celeste cited, 226.
- Phalèse, Pierre, his Ghirlanda di Madrigali cited, 227.
- Philip and Mary, W. Treasurer musical-instrument maker to, 104.
- Phonograph, value of for study of comparative music, 122; method of reproducing the record, ib.; analysis of Vedda songs by means of, ib.
- Phrygian mode, scale of, 93; Morley's name for, 97; description of, 191-4.
- Piano, early specimen at Victoria and Albert Museum, 237.

- Pianoforte Magazine, The*, a re-publication of non-copyright works, 102.
- Piccini, Nicola, his La Buona Figliuola played in Dublin, 28 n.
- Pike, John, apprenticed to H. Buett, musician, 178.
- Pilon, F., his pantomime The Touchstone, performed in Dublin, 31.
- Pinetti, Signior, songs sung by, 28; played in Italian burletta at Dublin, 28 n.
- Pitch, how phonograph may be made to reproduce, 122-3; method of denoting in Malu music, 124 n.; lowness of in Malu songs for dances, 126; of keber songs, 131; of Vedda songs, 135, 137.
- Pitch-meter (or Tonmesser), use of for determining pitch in primitive music, 123.
- Pius VIII, orders by for singing Misereres, 209.
- Plain chant canto fermo, use of by Ward, 66; and by Ferrabosco, 68.
- Plain chant, Magnificat commonly sung in alternate verses of, 147.
- Plain openings of sixteenth-century music, examples of, 142, 144, 192.
- Plainsong, the traditional, use of by Sistine Choir, 4, 209, 211.
- Playford, Henry, son of John, 198; engravings in music-books published by, ib.
- Playford, John, use of large initial letters by in his musical publications, 196; revived music publication in England, 197; his first publication, ib.; portraits of, ib., 199; list of some of his illustrated music-books, 197-8.
- Plumptre, Rev. James, moral verses by, 169 n.
- Plutarch, his dialogue on music, 164.
- Pole, Cardinal, Papal Legate, present at service in St. Paul's, 151.
- Polymnastus, praised by Plutarch for invention of new rhythmical forms, 164.
- Pope, Sir Thomas, Elizabeth resided in custody of, 151.
- Popular music, of the eighteenth century, 18; publication of in Exshaw's London Magazine, 18, 19.
- Poromala of Henebedda, song sung by, 138.
- Porter, Mr., words of songs by, 185.
- Potter, John, songs set to music by, 23; account of, 117.
- Potter, Miss, songs sung by, 27, 28.
- Power, James, publisher of compositions by T. Moore, 119.
- Prerogative Grant Book, notice of death of R. Woffington in, 216.
- Presse, Charles, discharged from apprenticeship with J. Hall, rope-dancer, 178.
- Price, James, petition to be released from apprenticeship to his father as trumpeter, 178.
- Price, John, trumpeter in the king's fleet, 178.
- Printz, W. C., first mention of J. W. Franck by, 181.
- Psalms, pointing of, verses in which no system is quite satisfactory, 82.
- Public Record Office, London, letters by A. Ferrabosco in, 225.
- Public Record Office, Dublin, notice of death of R. Woffington preserved in, 216 n.
- Purcell, Daniel, copy of Ode on St. Cecilia's Day by, in Gresham College, 5; songs and duets by D. and H. Purcell in autograph of H. Purcell, in Gresham College, 7.
- Purcell, Henry, unknown autograph of, in Gresham College, 5-17; use of term 'Bell Barr' by, 11; examples of unresolved fourth on dominant in a close from anthems of, 60-1; contributed songs to the Gentleman's Journal, 184; story of relating to song sung by J. Bowen, 186; at the height of his career, 187; rare vignette portrait of, 199.
- Purcell Society, complete edition of H. Purcell's works in preparation for, 6, 7.
- Puritans, their dislike of organs and 'curious singing', 150.
- Quarterly Magazine of the International Musical Society* cited, 36 n.
- QUERIES.—Jean Claude Gillier, French composer and violinist, 1667-1737, 180; Peter Gillier, ib.; William Hodson, 64; Carols, ib.; Composer of Lamentations wanted, 120; George Jefferies, ib.; Mr. T. G. . . d. . . n, 240.
- Quirinal, chapel of, now attached to the palace of the King of Italy, 1; Church's great feasts celebrated by Pope in, ib., 2.
- Rameau, Jean P., his Treatise of Music issued with The New Musical and Universal Magazine, 102.
- Ranelagh Gardens Theatre, songs sung by various artistes in, 22, 26, 29 n., 31.
- Raphael Chambers, performance of mystery of Nativity in, 214.
- Rayner, William, engraver of illustrated music-books, 206; Bickham's opinion of, ib.; publications of, ib.
- R. D., words of song by, 28.
- Recitation note, its relation to speech-accent and melody, 74-5; syncopation of, 80; example of syncopation of, 86.
- Redford, John, organist and almoner of St. Paul's in reign of Henry VIII, 149; dates of term of office, ib.
- Reeve, Miss, words of song by, 23.
- Regall, W. Treasurer a maker of, 103, 105; did the name include all chamber keyboard instruments? 105 n.
- Remington, Mrs., song sung by, 27.
- Reminiscences of Henry Angelo*, cited for Arrowsmith, 33 n.
- Renaissance, period of, audiences of trained in details of Greek mythology, 42.
- Rhodes, Hugh, music for ceremony of Boy Bishop composed by, 151.
- Rhythm, of Vedda music, 140; occasional changes of in madrigals, 158; what due to, 161; influence of study of ancient

- rhythm, ib., 162; the ancient Greek rhythms, 164.
- Richer, tight-rope performance by, 39 n.
- Ridley, Bishop, changes in arrangements at St. Paul's Cathedral by, 150.
- Riemann, Professor, new facts about J. W. Franck by, 181.
- Rimbault, Edward F., Gibbons's fancies edited by, 66; extract from relating to P. Gillies, 239.
- Ritson, Joseph, date given by for 'Cherokee Indians' Death Song', 167; on origin of tune of 'Death Song', 168.
- Roberts, Henry, engraver of illustrated music-books, 204; nature of his work, ib.; vignettes and frontispieces by, 205; his Calliope and Chio and Euterpe, ib.; issue of Calliope came to abrupt conclusion but resumed by J. Simpson, 205; date of death unknown, 206.
- Robinson, G., publisher of Lady's Magazine, 101.
- Rolland, Romain, his essay L'Opéra avant l'opéra summed up history of origin of opera, 40; his investigation into history of opera did not supersede that of Kiesewetter, 43.
- Roseingrave, Ralph and Thomas, vicars-choral of cathedral, Dublin, 215.
- Rossi, Luigi, two examples of unresolved fourth on dominant in a close from cantata by, 60.
- Rotunda, the (Dublin), songs sung at, 22, 23, 28, 29, 30, 32; still in active musical service, 22 n.; transformed into a burlesque theatre by the Barthélémons, 24 n.; Catherine Hayes's début at concert in, 61.
- Rousseau, Jean J., his Musical Dictionary issued with The New Musical and Universal Magazine, 102.
- Row, Walter, editor of Gospel Magazine, 235.
- Royal Academy of Music, receipt for subscription to, 239.
- Royal Irish Academy, deficiencies in set of Exshaw's London Magazine in, 19.
- Royal Magazine, The*, musical contents of, 101.
- Ruckers, Hans (the elder), harpsichords made by, 237; two-keyboard system invented by, ib.
- Russell, Mr., settings of songs by, 20.
- Ruwala ceremony of Veddas of Ceylon, 136.
- Ryder, Mr., songs sung by, 31, 32, 34, 35.
- Sacadas, praised by Plutarch for invention of new rhythmical forms, 164.
- Sachs, Herr Curt, his researches into history of Ansbach court musicians, 181.
- Sadlers Wells Theatre, musical entertainments at, 29.
- Saizo, M. P., songs set to music by, 22; sonatas published by, ib. n.
- Sala Borgia, concerts by Sistine Choir in, 214.
- Sander, Dr. Nicholas, on S. Westcott's position at St. Paul's, 152.
- Sandys, William, his collection of carols cited, 64.
- Santini, Abbé, Handel MSS. procured by, 116.
- Sapio, Catherine Hayes's début at concert by, at Rotunda, 61.
- Savile, Henry, letter from, in Marquis of Bath's MSS., 117.
- Savoi, Signor, songs sung by, 22; difficulty over name of explained, 117, 235; sang at London concerts, 235.
- Scale, the two scale systems used by sixteenth-century musicians, 87; d'Arezzo's hexachordal scale, 89; the hexachordal system of three scales, 91; table of modal scales, ib.; names given to scales do not correspond to those of Greek from which derived, 92; modal scale contains two modes, ib.; musical examples of, 92-4; of secular songs of Murray Islanders, 131-2; of Hypodorian mode, 143-4.
- Scarlati, Alessandro, history of opera before his time, 43; settings by, used in Sistine Choir, 209.
- Schoen, Mr., libretto of opera ascribed to, 168.
- Schott, Gerhard, opera-house founded by in Hamburg, 181.
- Schumann, F. T. (?), music lessons by, 29.
- 'Secular' music, of Murray Islanders, 123; language of, 130; used to accompany dances, top-spinning, &c., ib.; a distinct advance upon the keber songs, 131; intervals of, ib.
- Seligmann, C. G. and Brenda, their work on The Veddas cited, 121 n., 135, 137 n., 139, 141; phonographic records of Vedda songs obtained by, 122.
- Sestini, Signora, songs sung by, 28, 34; the best buffa of her day, 28 n.; notice and photogravure of in Dr. Mee's Oldest Music Room in Europe, 117.
- Shield, William, music of Bate's Flitch of Bacon by, 30 n.; wrote music for Rosina, 32; music for Harlequin Rambler and Robin Hood composed by, 33; music for Hartford Bridge by, 39 n.
- Shenstone, words of song by, 31.
- Sheridan, Richard B., his pantomime Robinson Crusoe, performed in Dublin, 31 n.
- Shrubsale, William, his 'Miles Lane' first published in The Gospel Magazine, 101.
- Sibbald, J., publisher of The Edinburgh Magazine, 102.
- Simonelli, Matteo, settings of sung by Sistine Choir, 2, 211.
- Simpson, Christopher, portraits of, 199.
- Simpson, John, frontispiece to his Delightful Companion for the German Flute engraved by Bickham, 203; issue of Roberts's Calliope resumed by, 205.
- Sita Wanniya of Henebedda, songs sung by, 136.
- Sitala Wanniya Veddas, songs of, 134, 136-7.
- Smart, Thomas, song set to music by, 23.
- Smith, John, designs by for illustrated

- music-books, 206; question of identity of, ib.
- Smith, Miss (afterwards Mrs. John Astley), dances by, 39 and n.
- Smith, Mrs., songs sung by, 23.
- Smith, Stafford, T. Mulliner's connexion with St. Paul's based on manuscript note by, 149.
- Smith, Theodore, song by, 23.
- Smock Alley Theatre, Dublin, Ann Catley performed at, 25 n.; Mrs. Sparks acted at, ib.; Italian burletta season at, 28 n.; operas, &c., performed at, 31 n., 32 n., 33 n., 34 n., 36.
- Snagg, Richard, publisher of New Musical and Universal Magazine, 102.
- Solerti, Angelo, his essays on history of music, 40; his references to U. Angeli's work on the intermedi, 42; reference by to reprint of Descrizione dell' Apparato, 116.
- SOME ILLUSTRATED MUSIC-BOOKS OF THE SEVENTEENTH AND EIGHTEENTH CENTURIES: ENGLISH, 195-208: noted music and pictorial embellishment allied, 195; painters and draughtsmen of early Italian school practical musicians, ib.; Dutch artists of seventeenth century accustomed to handling the musical instruments they painted, ib.; vandalism of collectors of pictorial music, ib., 204; beginning of pictorial embellishment, 195; early examples generally service books, ib.; nature of adornment, 196; examples of ornamental initial in Italian manuscript music, ib.; engraved frontispieces and vignettes, ib.; the first engraved in England, ib.; the Playford publications, 197-8; portraits in, 198-9; need of list of early engraved portraits, 199; list of music-books which are wholly engraved and with ornamental designs, 200-8; description of Bickham's plates, 200-3; of Cole's, 203-4; of Roberts's, 204-6; of Rayner's and Bickerstaff's, 206; of Kitchin's and Tyther's, 207; and of Fielding's, 208.
- SOME SISTINE CHAPEL TRADITIONS, 1-4, 209-14: Sistine Choir the Pope's special body of singers, 1; most of great Church feasts celebrated by Pope in, ib.; order of Vespers according to Sistine tradition, ib.; no organ ever accompanied Sistine Choir, 2; chronological order of chief Papal functions, ib., 209-14; Sistine Choir sang at lunch after feast of Circumcision, 2; motets and *Offertorium*s sung in, ib., 3-4, 209-14; Moroni's account of the Passion in, 4; dinner to poor priests on Maundy Thursday, 209; concert by Sistine Choir on Christmas Eve, 213.
- Sonneck, Dr. O. G., A Description of Alessandro Striggio and Francesco Corteccia's Intermedi Psyche and Amor, 1565, 40-53; Note on same, 116; on Early American Operas, 167, 170.
- Soprani, of Sistine Choir, parts sung by, 1-2, 209-13; were men, 2.
- Sparks, Mrs., songs sung by, 25, 29, 33, 34.
- Speech-accent, relation of to melody and recitation note, 74; chant in duple time exactly suited to, 75.
- Speech-rhythm, how a perfect speech-rhythm may be attained, 74; cause of difficulties in expressing, 76.
- Spurious musical instruments, sale of, 62.
- Squire, W. Barclay, An Unknown Autograph of Henry Purcell, 5-17; preparation of complete edition of H. Purcell's works for Purcell Society by, 6; highly praises Ward's fancies, 66; his Catalogue of Ballad Operas, 179; J. W. Franck in England, 181-90.
- St. James's, Garlickhithe, extracts from Registers of, 237.
- St. John Lateran, cathedral of Pope as bishop of Rome, 1; choir of, distinct from Sistine Choir, ib.; Basilica of, 210, 212.
- St. Martini, Giuseppe, example of Roberts's engraving in his XII Sonatas, 204.
- St. Mary Major, Rome, church of, celebration of services in, 213.
- St. Paul's, early organists of, 149; choir boys impressed for, 149 n., 156; service at, in state of transition at beginning of Elizabeth's reign, 150; Te Deum sung in at suppression of Wyatt's rebellion, 151.
- St. Peter's, choir of, distinct from Sistine Choir, 1; some of Church's feasts celebrated by Pope in St. Peter's, ib., 3; only sang Palestrina's Tu es Petrus as Pope entered, 2; service with military band in, 211.
- Stanley, John, the blind organist, settings of songs by, 20.
- Staves, coloured, early use of, 196.
- Stephens, George A., song by, 35; obituary of, in Exshaw, 35 n.
- Stesichorus, praised by Plutarch for invention of new rhythmical forms, 164.
- Stevenson, Sir John, first published composition by, 33 and n.; music to sacred songs, &c., of T. Moore composed by, 180; earliest benefactor of, 217; illustrated memoir of, 217 n.
- Stevenson, Miss, songs sung by, 20, 21, 22.
- Storace, Stephen, music of The Haunted Tower by, 37 n.; first performance of, ib.; music of No Song, No Supper by, 38 n.; portrait of, in his book of operas, 199.
- Stokes, Miss E., reference supplied by for licence to W. Treasurer, 104 n.
- Streatfeild, R. A., date of Handel MS. given by, 59; references to his article on Granville Handel MSS., 60.
- Striggio, Alessandro, description of his Psyche and Amor, 40-53; his lost intermedio music for L'amico fido, 43.
- Strong, R., musician of London, 177.
- Strype, John, on ceremony of Boy Bishop, 151; on changes in service at St. Paul's under Act of Uniformity, 152; extract from letter in his Life of Bishop Grindal, 153.

- STUDIES IN THE TECHNIQUE OF SIXTEENTH-CENTURY MUSIC, 87-98, 142-8, 191-4 : the two scale systems employed by sixteenth-century musicians, 87; d'Arezzo's suggestions for acquirement of melody by singers, ib.; illustration of d'Arezzo's method, 88; d'Arezzo's scale, 89; plan of the hexachordal system, 90; scales of the modal system, 91, 92; derivation of names of scales, 92; the two modes, ib.; musical examples of modal scales, 92-4; treatment of Dorian mode, 95; musical examples of cantus in Dorian mode, 95-6; musical examples of cadences in Dorian mode, 96-8; example of Plagal cadence from Palestrina, 98; examples of plain and fugal openings of Dorian mode, 142-3; of Hypodorian mode, 144-7; examples of Hypodorian closes, 147-8; differences between modal scales, 191; principle governing composer's choice of a mode, 191-2; examples of plain and fugal openings of Phrygian mode, 192-3; examples of use of cadence, 193-4.
- STUDY OF PRIMITIVE MUSIC, THE, 121-41 : music of the Murray Islanders and the Veddas of Ceylon, 121; small part played by musical instruments in development of, ib.; value of phonograph for recording pitch and tempo of, 122-3; three styles of Miriam music, 123; Malu songs belonged to ceremonies of secret cult, 124; musical illustration of Malu songs, 124-5; Malu songs made up of intervals approximating to our whole tone, 125; table of sizes of intervals in Malu songs, 127; musical examples of intervals in, ib.; keber group of songs belonged to ceremonies of special cult, 128; words of Murray Islanders' songs in language of western islands, 128, 130; no importance attached to words of songs, ib., 129; irregularity of rhythm in keber music, 129; musical illustration of intervals in keber music, ib., 130; origin of music of Murray Islanders, 130; woman composer of songs, 130-1; songs of Veddas of Ceylon, 133; musical illustrations of Vedda songs, 134-9; Vedda songs free from embellishments, 141; Vedda and Miriam songs the simplest primitive music yet recorded, ib.
- Sweelinck, J. P., example of change of rhythm in madrigal by, 160, 162; his use of rhythm compared to Beethoven's use of tonality, 162.
- Tallis, Thomas, use of recitation note in early chants by, 75.
- Tandi, wife of Handuna of Sitala Wanniya, songs sung by, 136.
- Taylor, Prof. Edward, miscellaneous pieces in Gresham College erroneously attributed to handwriting of Purcell by, 6.
- Tempo, value of phonograph for recording in primitive music, 122; of Vedda music, 140.
- Tenbury, music MS. by A. Ferrabosco at, 227.
- Tenducci, Giusto F., song sung by, 32; music for song composed by, 33; fine portrait of in copy of his Instructions, 199.
- Tenors, of Sistine Choir, parts sung by, 3, 209, 210.
- Teresina, Signora, played in Italian burletta in Dublin, 28 n.
- Terpander, praised by Plutarch for invention of new rhythmical forms, 164.
- Terry, R. R., Some Sistine Chapel Traditions, 1-4, 209-14.
- Thaletas, Plutarch's praise of for invention of new rhythmical forms, 164.
- Thompson, Michael, song by, 31; organist and composer, 117.
- Tickell, R., his Carnival of Venice produced at Drury Lane, 32 n.
- Ticket-medal, struck for annual subscribers to Charitable Musical Society of Dublin, 107; illustration of, ib.; another example in silver, 235.
- Tighe, Mrs. Henry, of Rosanna, ballad dedicated by T. Moore to, 119.
- Tisdall, John, musician, 178.
- Tissahami, the 'Vedda Arachi', songs sung by, 134, 137.
- Tonal fugue, minor third answered by minor second a foreshadowing of, 145.
- Tonic, use of in songs of Murray Islanders, 130-3; in Vedda music, 140.
- Toplady, Augustus M., editor of Gospel Magazine, 235; 'Rock of Ages' appeared in, ib.
- Townsend, Horatio, his account of Handel's visit to Dublin, 216 n.
- Travers, John, canonetta by, 30.
- Trinity College (Dublin) Library, deficiency in set of Exshaw's London Magazine at, 19.
- Tudway, Dr. Thomas, Evening Service copied by and assigned to J. Ferrabosco, 221.
- Tuke, Mr., song sung by, 33.
- 'Turba' music, Vittoria's setting of stereotyped by nineteenth century, 4.
- Turnbull, J., words of song by, 33.
- Turner, Dr. William, common form of his chants, 78.
- Turner, Miss, daughter of Dr. Turner, composer of songs, 21, 117.
- Tusser, Thomas, impressed for St. Paul's choir, 149 n.
- Twiss's Travels through Portugal and Spain cited, 26 n.
- Tyler, Royal, tune of 'Death Song of Cherokee Indians' used in comedy by, 167.
- Tyther, John, frontispiece to his Complete Flute Master engraved by Roberts, 205; engraved music-book issued by, 207-8.
- Udendal, Alexander, example of change of rhythm in madrigal by, 160.
- Universal Harmony*, a reprint of The English Orpheus, 207.

- Universal Magazine, The*, musically the most important of eighteenth-century London literary publications, 100.
- Universal Museum, The*, musical contents of, 101.
- Universal Musician, The*, engraved plates for, 206.
- Unresolved fourth on dominant in a close, 60; peculiar to the seventeenth century, ib.; examples of from Purcell's anthems, ib.
- Vandermere, Mr., sang with Miss Walpole and Gaudry in Dublin, 27.
- Van Hove, portrait of J. Playford by, 190.
- Vatican, archives of, examples of 'in music' in, 1.
- Vauxhall, views of in illustrated music-books, 201.
- Vauxhall Gardens Theatre, songs sung by various artistes in, 20, 21, 22, 23, 25, 26, 27, 28, 29, 30, 31, 32, 33, 35.
- Vecchi, Orazio, MS. copies of madrigal by in Christ Church library, 65; are beautiful inspirations, 69; example of change of rhythm in madrigal by, 159.
- Veddas, aboriginal people of Ceylon, 121; of Dravidian stock, ib.; where not affected by contact with Sinhalese have no musical instruments whatever, ib.; composition of songs of, 133; intervals used in songs of, ib., 139-41; musical illustrations of songs by, 134-9; striking features of their music, 140.
- 'Vendu', the (or 'Vendue'). See 'Mr. Smith's Musick-Room'.
- Vento, Mattia, airs taken from for O'Keeffe's Castle of Andalusia, 32.
- Vernon, Joseph, tenor singer, songs sung by, 23, 26, 27, 28, 30.
- Vibration-frequency, intervals determined as ratios of, 125 n.
- Village choirs, undeviating rhythm of, 75.
- Vincent, Richard, father of T., C., and J. Vincent, 201; editor of eighteenth-century music-books, ib.
- Vincent, Thomas, hautboy player, 201.
- Vincenti, Giac., his Nuova Spoglia cited, 222.
- Violin, treble, representation of in early illustrated music-book, 197, 198.
- Virginal, spurious, constructed out of an old work-box, 62; the name Regall perhaps applied to, 105; representations of in early engraved music-books, 196, 198.
- Virginal makers, of sixteenth century, 103, 106.
- Vittoria, Tommaso L. da, settings of sung by Sistine Choir, 214.
- Vocal Enchantress, The*, published by Fielding, 208.
- Vogel, Emil, catalogues works by the Ferrabosco family, 220, 221, 222, 226.
- Wagner, Richard, his enduring appeal to human nature, 163.
- Waiet, accredited author of keber ceremonies of Murray Islanders, 130.
- Walimbagala Veddas, song of, 136.
- Walker, Dr. E., An Oxford Book of Fancies, 65-73; his History of Music in England cited, 66.
- Walker's Hibernian Magazine*, sheets from bound up with Exshaw's London Magazine, in National Library, Ireland, 19; citation of, 25 n., 39 n.; musical sheets issued with, 102.
- Wallop, Sir John, a soldier and diplomatist, 103; brought W. Treasurer to England, ib.
- Walpole, Horace, gives best account of G. Bickham, 200; confused father and son, ib., 202.
- Walpole, Miss, hornpipe danced by, in Dublin, 26; her first appearance, 26 n.; songs sung by, 27, 29.
- Walsh, John, published sonatas, &c., by Dothel Fils, 179; portraits in music-books published by, 199; music-books embellished by, 208.
- Wannaku of Bandaraduwa, song sung by, 138.
- Wannaku of U niche, song sung by, 137.
- Ward, John, MS. collection of fancies by in Christ Church library, 65; MS. copy of madrigal by, ib.; his fancies praised by Barclay Squire, 66; description of, ib.
- Warren, family of musicians, 237-8.
- Warton, Dr. Joseph, new version of 'Cherokee Indians' Death Song' by, 169.
- Warton, Dr. Thomas, literary forgery by, 151.
- Watson, Thomas, discharged from his apprenticeship to J. Tisdall, musician, 178.
- Watteau, Jean A., designs for illustrated music-books copied from, 201.
- Watts, J., operas published by, 179.
- Webster, Mr., songs sung by in Dublin, 29; his début, 29 n.; death of, ib.
- Weichsell, Mrs., songs sung by in Dublin, 29; mother of Mrs. Billington, 29 n.
- Weideman, Karl F., song set to music by, 20; list of his works in Eitner, 20 n.
- Welch, Christopher, notice of Bressan in his Six Lectures on the Recorder, 179.
- Welsh, Mr., cotillon by, 29.
- Welcker, John, published engraved music-books, 206.
- West, John E., his Cathedral Organists cited, 149.
- Westminster Abbey, Handel Commemoration in, 60.
- Wewitzer, Miss, song sung by, 25; memoir and portrait of in Walker's Hibernian Magazine, 25 n.
- Wheble, John, publisher of Lady's Magazine, 101.
- White, Robert, engraver of portrait of Blow, 199.
- White, William, MS. collection of fancies by in Christ Church library, 65; not to be confused with Robert, 68; a prolific composer of instrumental fancies, ib.;

- description of, ib.; made frequent attempts at dance-measures, ib.
- Wilcox, John, published an engraved edition of Lampe's Dragon of Wantley, 203.
- WILLIAM TREASURER, 103-6; instrument-maker to a succession of English sovereigns, 103-6; was a German, 103; came to England with Sir J. Wallop, ib.; name not found among Henry VIII's instrument-makers, ib.; combined business of instrument-maker with that of 'golden dustman', 104; Elizabeth's licence to for purchase of ashes and old shoes for export, ib.; new musical instrument devised by, 105; reference to in The King's Musicke, ib.; lived in parish of Christ Church, Newgate, ib.; documents giving details about his life, ib., 106; marriage of probable relative of, ib.; notice of burial of, ib.
- Williams, B., music publisher of London, 170.
- Williams, C. F. Abdy, A Rhythmical Peculiarity in Certain Madrigals compared with the Greek Theory of Metabole of Rhythm, 158-65.
- Woffington, Abraham and Thomas, sons of R. Woffington (2), 219.
- Woffington, Ann, widow of Robert (2), 219.
- Woffington, John, organist of St. Werburgh's, Dublin, 215; appointed to St. John's, ib.; removed to St. Michan's, 216; salary of, ib.; song probably composed by, ib.; concert by, ib.; organist of Armagh Cathedral, ib.; intestacy of granted to his nephews, 217 n.
- Woffington, J., jun., instruction in piano-forte-tuning given by, 219.
- Woffington, Miss, performer on musical glasses, 218.
- Woffington, Peg, attempt to draft geneological tree of, 215.
- Woffington, Robert (1), vicar-choral of St. Patrick's Cathedral, Dublin, 215, 216; probably took part in original performance of Handel's Messiah, 216; entry in Prerogative Grant Book referring to death of, ib.
- Woffington, Robert (2), organist of St. Mary's, Dublin, 217; in partnership with W. Gibson, ib.; notice of dissolution of partnership, 218; examples of his work, ib.; inventor of the 'Duo-chord', ib.; signature of, in signature-book of Latouche's Bank, ib.; signature of widow and sons of, 219; death of, ib.
- Woffington, Robert (3), licence to marry granted to, 217 n.
- Woffington, Robert (4), similar licence granted to, 217 n.
- Woffington, Spencer, proprietor of puppet-show, 218; question of his relationship to the family of instrument-makers, 216.
- Woffington, Will., son of John and Ann, 217.
- WOFFINGTONS OF DUBLIN, THE, 215-19: two branches of the family, 215; Protestant branch were musicians or musical-instrument makers, ib.; history of this family, 217-19; examples of R. Woffington's work, 218; no bearer of name now known in Ireland, 219.
- Wood, Mr., song sung by, 33.
- Wooldridge, H. E., Studies in the Technique of Sixteenth-Century Music, 87-98, 142-8, 191-4.
- Worgan, John, song set to music by, 22.
- Wrighten, Mrs. (afterwards Mrs. Pownall), songs sung by, 32, 35.
- Wynne, Mr., words of song by, 24.
- Yonge, Nicholas, madrigals by A. Ferrabosco in his Musica Transalpina, 226-7.
- York, Cardinal, S. de Bolis in service of, 5.
- Zarlino, Gioseffe, his account of the use of the three modes, 191.
- Zelle, Dr. Friedrich, his study of J. W. Franck the chief source of information, 181; list of Franck's known compositions in, 182; works of Franck printed by, ib.

